

Join Kurt Warner for the fourth annual “Kurt Warner’s Bracket Hoop-la”

Win a chance at some cool autographed stuff and support First Things First!

“Kurt Warner’s Bracket Hoop-la” is an online college hoops bracket competition for the NCAA basketball tournament for the benefit of the Kurt Warner First Things Foundation. Up to 400 people can compete with Kurt with the winner scoring an autographed Kurt Warner jersey, as well as a personal phone call from Kurt. Second place will receive a ½ Rams, ½ Cardinals mini-helmet autographed by Kurt, and third place will receive a Super Bowl photo autographed by Kurt. (Note: only one prize will be awarded per person. If a player has two or more brackets that place, they will only receive the higher prize.)

To be part of this competition, simply make a donation to the Kurt Warner First Things First Foundation here and designate it to “Bracket Hoopla.” 100% of your donation is tax deductible as a charitable contribution and will support the outreach of First Things First.

- A $10 donation allows you to complete ONE bracket;
- A $25 donation (or more) allows you to complete up to THREE brackets.

Upon receipt of your contribution, you will receive an email acknowledging your donation which will also include a link to the “Kurt Warner’s Bracket Hoop-la” pool on CBSSports.com as well as the password to join the group. You will be required to register at CBSSports.com in order to submit your bracket picks. (Be sure to enter the same email address when making your donation at kurtwarner.org and signing up at CBSSports.com!) Note: Brackets are not available until the final pool is announced Sunday, March 16, but you may make your donation and get signed up prior to that so you are ready. Then, sign in anytime during the tournament to watch scores and standings update LIVE, talk among group members via message boards, and more!

The tournament is starting Thursday, March 20 so don’t delay! All entry donations must be received no later than 10 a.m. EDT Thursday, March 20. Bracket submission cut-off on CBSSports.com is Thursday, March 20 at noon EDT when the first games begin.

Thank you for joining the fun and supporting the outreach of First Things First!
